

Table Charette

This table was a collaborative group project to create a life-size table with CNC milling. We created a 3d model based on the idea that the table could be used for different functions at different heights. After the pieces were cut we assembeled them to create the table

